

We create a World of Difference, through tech education!

Social Hackers Academy was awarded, among other 9 NGOs, this year with the program «World of Difference», from the Vodafone Foundation. Through this program, Aggelina Mila, is employed, for 6 months, as Business Development Coordinator, for Social Hackers Academy. She will be responsible for the strategic development of the organization, in order to reach closer to our mission: to integrate social vulnerable groups, including refugees, migrants and unemployed EU Nationals, in the society, through tech education and work placements. She will improve the educational programs we offer, the partnerships we build, in order to strengthen our community around our mission and activities, along with our brand.

More specifically, she will be overall responsible for the 7-month coding program, called «Full-Stack Web Development», closely cooperating with Ahmed, Head of Education. She will supervise the admissions, selection process and the education cycle of the students. She will plan and manage the soft-skills seminars schedule for the students, engaging our external partners and she will also build new partnerships (and maintain the already established ones) with companies & Foundations, in order to support financially the classes' realization. She will also reach to tech companies, in order to engage them in our mission and open working positions, for our graduates, in order to ease their recruitment processes. Moreover, she will build relationships with NGOs, in order for Social Hackers Academy, to run their second programs, the basic computer skills trainings for their beneficiaries. Hence, Aggelina will enable Social Hackers Academy to spread together with partner NGOs, the importance of technology's tools in the everyday life. Moreover, she will be the Project Manager for the meetups we organize in order to bring in touch tech industry's experts (e.g. Marketers, Developers, Product Managers) with our students, in order to make them understand market's trends and needs of the companies, in their workforce.

Moreover, through Vodafone Foundation's support & trust in our impact, Aggelina will supervise our volunteers that assist in organization's everyday operations and she will manage them in order for them to gain a developing experience, through contributing in Greek society's societal problems. Last but not least, Aggelina will also work on amending Social Hackers Academy's brand & positioning in the external environment. She will supervise the Social Media Management Strategy of the organization and she will run Crowdfunding Campaigns through online platforms & digital tools in order to financially support our operations. Through Aggelina's passion & work for Social Hackers Academy, we expect to educate 200 beneficiaries, change the mindset of companies towards multiculturalism and recruitment of people, belonging to social vulnerable groups and indeed change their lives, through tech education. She will also bring value to our organization, thanks to her experience, as her previous volunteering experience in other NGOs.

Through our cooperation, with Aggelina, so far we have seen her eagerness in using digital tools in her work and that she definitely understand the importance of digital transformation for an organization. We are also really proud to have Aggelina on board, as her background and experience will help us maximize our impact. She has graduated from the Primary Education Department, with a degree in Business Administration, through a parallel studies scholarship. She has worked in Human Resources Department, in a multinational company and in Sharda University, in India, managing students' extra-curriculum educational programs. Her eagerness to offer to the society, has pushed her to volunteer a lot as a student and even now, in several organization, related to youth empowerment, medical assistance and event management. She believes that education is the tool, in order to unlock anyone's potential and make him understand her strengths and capabilities. Her hardworking attitude, devotion and willingness to learn from new ventures, are inspiring and can offer a lot in Social Hackers Academy Team.

Last but not least, we are grateful to Vodafone Foundation, that through «World of Difference» Program, they trusted Aggelina in moving Social Hackers Academy forward and bringing a positive impact in the Greek Society, through technology!
